Defendant.

No. 3:24-po-0181-DMC-1

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
Plaintiff,
v.
PAUL T. KINGSTON,
Defendant.

No. 3:24-po-0182-DMC-1

ORDER

Pending before the Court is Defendant's motion to compel production of discovery and motion to continue the trial date in these matters, currently set for February 6, 2025, at 3:30 p.m. in Sacramento, California. See ECF Nos. 11 and 18 in case no. 3:24-po-0181-DMC-1 and ECF Nos. 11 and 16 in case no. 3:24-po-0182-DMC-1. The Government has filed an opposition to the motion to compel.

I. BACKGROUND

These cases arise from criminal citations issued to Defendant on July 5, 2024, for being in a closed or restricted area. See ECF No. 1 in case nos. 3:24-po-0181-DMC-1 and 3:24-po-0182-DMC-1. Defendant pled not guilty, and the matter was set for trial on January 29, 2025. See ECF Nos. 5 and 6 in case nos. 3:24-po-0181-DMC-1 and 3:24-po-0182-DMC-1.¹ Defendant filed a motion to vacate the trial on December 24, 2024. See ECF No. 8. Finding that Defendant had not shown good cause for a continuance, the Court denied the motion. See ECF No. 10. Due to the Court's own conflict, the matter was continued to February 6, 2025. See ECF No. 12.

A. Defendant's Motion to Compel Discovery, ECF No. 13

On February 4, 2025, Defendant filed a motion to compel discovery. See ECF No. 13. Defendant argues that he is “entitled to reasonable discovery relevant to a selective enforcement claim.” ECF No. 13, pg. 3. According to Defendant, the Rainbow Gathering, of which Defendant was a member, is an exercise of religion. Id. at 5. Defendant argues that he meets the threshold showing required to compel discovery for a selective enforcement defense. Id. at 6. To show that the Rainbow Gathering has been subject to selective enforcement, Defendant cites a 2018 Rainbow Gathering where the government imposed a checkpoint which was, according to Defendant, in violation of internal policy. Id.

Defendant contends there is a ““colorable basis’ that similarly situated individuals who are not members of the Rainbow Family have been treated differently.” Id. at 7. In support of this claim, Defendant includes Exhibit A, a citation to a different individual allegedly involved in the Rainbow Gathering, and the Forest Service orders closing the area where Defendant was cited. Id. at 11-12. To show “the government’s enforcement strategy,” Defendant also includes Exhibits B and C, press releases from the Plumas County Sheriff’s Office and Calaveras County Sheriff’s Office, respectively, and Exhibit D, the Forest Service Unauthorized Group Use Incident report. Id. at 7 and 19-26. According to Defendant, these documents show that the government made unsubstantiated claims of unlawful activity and “threats of civil liability for damages.” Id.

¹ These cases are scheduled to be tried together, and all motions were filed for both cases. All subsequent citations are to case no. 3:24-po-00181-DMC-1.

1 at 7. Additionally, Defendant includes Exhibit F, a screenshot from Facebook, to show the
2 government “grant[ed] exemptions to local residents” in such enforcement. Id.

3 B. Government’s Opposition, ECF No. 14

4 The Government’s opposition argues that Defendant’s motion is untimely, and
5 Defendant failed to make a sufficient showing to justify such an expansive discovery request. See
6 ECF No. 12, pgs. 1-4. The Government contends that Defendant made the request for this
7 discovery back in October and the Government declined to produce the discovery on November
8 6, 2024. Id. at 1-2. Thus, the Government argues, the Court should deny the continuance because
9 the request is meritless and any prejudice to Defendant was Defendant’s own doing by waiting
10 until February 4, 2025, to file the motion to compel. Id.

11 The Government asserts that Defendant does not show the discriminatory effect
12 nor discriminatory purpose required to establish a claim of selective prosecution because the 13 closure order was based on reports of a large, unpermitted, camping in the area and the closure
14 was public. Id. at 2-4. Additionally, the Government claims there is no proof if similarly situated
15 individuals being treated differently. Id. at 5.

16 C. Defendant’s Motion to Continue, ECF No. 18

17 On February 4, 2025, Defendant filed a motion to continue due to a snowstorm
18 which “may” prevent Defendant’s counsel from attending trial in-person in Sacramento. See ECF
19 No. 18, pg. 1. Defendant asks the Court to vacate the trial date and set a discovery motion hearing
20 and status conference for February 11, 2025, or February 12, 2025. See id. at 2.

21 D. Defendant’s Statement of Supplemental Information, ECF No. 19

22 Defendant subsequently filed what is titled “statement of supplemental 23 information,” but the Court construes as an additional motion to continue because it makes a new 24 argument not present in the previous filings. According to Defendant, the Government turned
25 over bodycam footage of the Officer’s interaction with Defendant on January 29, 2025. See ECF
26 No. 19, pg. 1. Defendant argues that this late disclosure violates Rule 16 of the Federal Rules of 27 Criminal Procedure, and both Brady and Giglio obligations. Id. at 2-4. Defendant asserts that this 28 “delayed disclosure” prejudices Defendant because there is not sufficient time to review the

1 footage and consider such evidence in preparation for trial. Id. at 3. Defendant argues that the
 2 footage may contain information that supports a suppression motion or conflicts with the 3 Officer's testimony. Id. Defendant contends that a continuance is the only way to remedy the 4 prejudice cause by this late disclosure. Id. at 4.

6 II. DISCUSSION

A. Defendant's Motion to Compel Discovery, ECF No. 13

8 To compel discovery based on a selective prosecution claim, a Defendant must
 9 meet a "slightly lower" standard than what is required to prove selective prosecution, showing
 10 both a discriminatory effect and discriminatory purpose of such enforcement. See United States v.
 11 Sellers, 906 F.3d 848, 852 (9th Cir. 2018) (United States v. Hare, 820 F.3d 93, 99 (4th Cir.
 12 2016)). Here, Defendant failed to show either.

13 Defendant argues that the Rainbow Gathering is an expression of religion, citing
 14 U.S. v. Rainbow Family, 695 F. Supp. 294, E.D. Tex. 1988. Beyond that case being persuasive to
 15 this Court, not binding, the Court does not find the quote provided supports Defendant's
 16 contention that the Rainbow Gathering is an expression of religion. Indeed, the court there
 17 concluded the Rainbow Family Gathering was expressive, nothing to do with religion. Rainbow
 18 Family at 308.

19 Defendant also failed to show discriminatory effect or purpose. The closure orders
 20 Defendant included as exhibits show the area was closed to everyone, not just members of the 21 Rainbow Gathering. See ECF No. 13 pgs. 12-26. Defendant argues that the orders make
 22 unsubstantiated claims of unlawful activity, but this is factually inaccurate. The 2023 Rainbow
 23 Gathering resulted in 121 citations.² Further, Defendant failed to show that similarly situated
 24 individuals were treated differently. Defendant claims that Exhibit F, a screenshot of a Facebook
 25 post by an alleged Lassen County District 5 Supervisor, shows that the government allowed other
 26 people into the enclosed area. See ECF No. 13, pg. 7. However, if the individuals' comments are

27 ² Amanda Gokee, Peace, love, and petty infractions at annual Rainbow Family Gathering in N.H., Bos.
 28 GLOBE (July 5, 2023), <https://www.bostonglobe.com/2023/07/05/metro/peace-love-petty-infractions-annual-rainbow-family-gathering-nh/>.

1 taken as true, it at most shows that this individual also violated the closure order. See id. at 28.
 2 There is no proof that Officers allowed the individual to enter the enclosed area while citing
 3 Rainbow Family members for doing the same.

4 Thus, the Court finds Defendant has not meet the threshold requirements necessary
 5 to compel such an expansive discovery request to make a selective prosecution claim. The motion
 6 is therefore denied.

7 B. Defendant's Motion to Continue

8 Defendant's counsel (herein Counsel) asserts that she is unable to travel down to 9 Sacramento due to a winter weather advisory. See ECF No. 18. The National Weather Advisory
 10 Winter Weather Advisory issued for Mount Shasta, where Counsel is located, ends at 10:00 p.m.
 11 on February 5, 2025.³ Thus, Counsel would be able to travel, outside of the weather advisory, to 12 Sacramento. Further, the Court notes that court staff are located in Redding, just over an hour
 13 south of where Defendant's counsel is located, and will therefore be making a similar commute.

14 C. Defendant's Statement of Supplemental Information, ECF No. 19

15 Rule 16 of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure requires that the government
 16 must give the defendant access to information "material to the preparation of the defense." Fed.
 17 R. Crim. P. 16. There is no timeline imposed by Rule 16. Id. Withholding exculpatory evidence
 18 from a defendant violates the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. Brady v.
 19 Maryland, 373 U.S. 83, 87 (1963). If the defendant has sufficient time to review the exculpatory
 20 evidence ahead of trial, there is no Brady violation. See United States v. Houston, 648 F.3d 806,
 21 813 (9th Cir. 2011) ("there is no Brady violation so long as the exculpatory or impeaching
 22 evidence is disclosed at a time when it still has value"); and United States v.
 23 Alahmedalabdaloklah, 94 F.4th 782, 828 (9th Cir. 2024) (citing United States v. Gordon, 844
 24 F.2d 1397, 1403 (9th Cir. 1988); United States v. Shelton, 588 F.2d 1242, 1247 (9th Cir. 1978))
 25 ("if the defendant is presented with a substantial opportunity to use the belatedly disclosed 26 evidence, there is no prejudice.").

 28 February 5, 2025, 2:42 p.m.)
<https://forecast.weather.gov/wwamap/wwatxtget.php?cwa=MFR&wwa=winter%20weather%20advisory>.

Defendant’s “statement of supplemental information” asserts that the Government’s “delayed disclosure” of bodycam footage violates Rule 16 of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, and both Brady and Giglio obligations and going to trial on February 6, 2025, would prejudice Defendant. Id. at 2-4. The Court disagrees. Neither the Federal Rules nor caselaw⁴ impose a specific, rigid timeline for requiring disclosure. Here, the Government turned over three bodycam videos on January 29, 2025, seven full days ahead of trial. Absent knowledge that the bodycam footage disclosed on that day was longer than 168 hours (seven days)⁵, the Court finds no reason why that is not sufficient time for Defendant to review and make use of such evidence.

III. CONCLUSION

Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED as follows:

13 1. Defendant's motion for discovery, ECF No. 13 case no. 3:24-po-0181-
14 DMC-1 and ECF No. 11 in case no. 3:24-po-0182-DMC-1, is DENIED.

15 2. Defendant's motion for a continuance, ECF No. 18 in case no. 3:24-po-
16 0181-DMC-1 and ECF No. 16 in case no. 3:24-po-0182-DMC-1, is DENIED.

17 3. These matters remain on calendar for a bench trial on February 6, 2025,
18 commencing at 3:30 p.m. in Courtroom 1 in Sacramento, California.

20 || Dated: February 5, 2025

⁵ Defendant did not disclose how long the footage is.
